

PRESIDENTIAL MANAGEMENT FELLOWS (PMF) PROGRAM CLASS OF 2010 AGENCY JOB FAIR OVERVIEW

All agency partners of the PMF Program are invited to participate in the PMF Class of 2010 Finalists Job Fair on March 30-April 1, 2010 (Tuesday-Thursday), at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center (WCC), in Washington, DC. This Overview is designed to help agencies prepare for the upcoming annual Job Fair. We look forward to your agency's participation.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

The Job Fair is an annual event open to all Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Federal Agencies interested in participating in the PMF Program and hiring Class of 2010 Finalists. The Job Fair presents agencies with the opportunity to advertise available positions and interview hundreds of candidates. Surveys show a majority of Fellows are hired as a result of the Job Fair.

Coordinators can grant resume access to potential hiring officials to view finalists' resumes online. Authorized users can search by graduate and undergraduate degrees, foreign languages, Indian or adjudicated veterans' preference, geographic employment preference, and U.S. citizenship. NEW FOR 2010: Agencies will also be able to search a list of 30 skills sets/competencies and also select multiple search criteria. Finalists can also view agencies' projected positions on the PMF website (See JOB FAIR TIPS below). NOTE: Shortly after OPM notifies finalists they were selected for the PMF Class of 2010, the PMF Program Office will announce to agencies the listing of the Class of 2010 finalists and their online resumes on the PMF website.

JOB FAIR TIPS:

- WORK WITH YOUR AGENCY PMF COORDINATOR. Interested hiring officials should work with their Agency PMF Coordinator to plan for the Job Fair event. Agency PMF Coordinators serve as the liaison between interested supervisors and finalists. Finalists are encouraged to contact the Agency PMF Coordinators to inquire about available positions and/or the contact(s) identified in the Projected Positions System (see below). Go to the "Agencies" section on the PMF website for a list of current Coordinators.
- POST YOUR POSITIONS. Agencies are encouraged to post available positions on the Projected Positions System (PPS) on the PMF website. Posted positions should include specific details of all the requirements for the position to help agencies attract and hire the most qualified candidates. Agency PMF Coordinators can grant new user's access to the PPS. Online instructions for using PPS can be found on the PMF website and allow agencies to enter PMF position descriptions, location of positions, level of background investigation (if needed), and contact information. Agencies can now instantly post entries to the PPS, without prior review from the PMF Program Office. Previous entries can also be updated and reposted. NOTE: Please bring copies of all your posted positions, including those already entered into PPS and especially any positions posted a few days prior to or during the Job Fair. Finalists will most likely be in transit to the Job Fair and may not have access to the PMF website.

- REVIEW FINALIST RESUMES. The latest class of finalists is announced annually, usually 3-4 weeks prior to the PMF Job Fair. Once agencies have been notified of the finalists, they can begin recruiting and arranging interviews. The online resume bank can be searched by name, graduate degree, undergraduate degree, Indian and adjudicated veterans' preference, U.S. citizenship, foreign language(s), and geographic employment preference. NEW FOR 2010: In addition, agencies can search by 30 skills sets/competencies and also select multiple search criteria. Agency PMF Coordinators can grant hiring officials access to resumes; however, access will be automatically deactivated after 6 months of inactivity. Finalists must be appointed within twelve months of the official announcement of their selection as finalists. For the PMF Class of 2010, finalists were selected on March 3, 2010, and have until March 3, 2011, to be appointed.
- UNDERSTAND THE PMF PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS. For information about the PMF reimbursement fee and other program requirements for hiring officials and supervisors, please see our "Hiring a Presidential Management Fellow" factsheet at <https://www.pmf.opm.gov/Documents/PGuidanceHiring.pdf>. In addition, we have a program brochure at <https://www.pmf.opm.gov/Documents/PMFAgencyBrochure.pdf>. As a reminder, the PMF reimbursement fee to hire a PMF finalist is $6,000. The most common financial forms are located under the "Forms" section of this website. You may contact Todd Hewell, of the PMF Program Office staff, at 202-606-1040, for any questions. Reimbursement must be made before a PMF can attend a PMF Orientation Session.

GET ORGANIZED FOR THE JOB FAIR:

Interviewers should work with their Agency PMF Coordinator to prepare for the Job Fair. Interviewers should bring:

- Position descriptions,
  - Interview questions,
  - Information about the agency, and
  - A system to organize candidates' information and interview appointments.
- Determine application and interview procedures. While agencies can interview finalists at any time during the year, some agencies only interview finalists at the Job Fair. Interviewers should bring methods for reviewing resumes, sign-up sheets for interviews, and strategies for follow-up with individual candidates. Please review the agenda for the dates/times available for scheduling interviews. All interviews during the Job Fair should be conducted during official Job Fair hours only. Interviews conducted before the Exhibit Floor opens up to all finalists and after the day's closing will not be permitted. Typically, the Agency PMF Coordinator (or the lead agency representative designated on the Agency Job Fair Participation Form) manages an agency's booth and coordinates interview times.
  - Be upfront about a position's requirements. Interviewers are encouraged to use structured or behavioral interviewing techniques to identify finalists who best match the positions' requirements. Avoid surprises and difficulties after hiring by being clear from the beginning about a position's requirements and any flexibility you expect.
  - Understand agency specific PMF policies. Agencies must develop internal policies on starting grades, promotions, developmental assignments, training, tuition reimbursement, relocation assistance, student loan repayment, and other issues.
  - Review the veterans' preference procedures. Generally speaking, an agency's candidate pool for a position includes all finalists who express an interest in that specific position. An online list of finalists showing their adjudicated veterans' preference can be accessed by Agency PMF Coordinators.
  - Close the deal with candidates. Interviewers should determine ahead of time which agency representative(s) have authority to make an offer of employment and the internal agency steps necessary to extend an offer. It is important to pre-establish these authorities because time may be of the essence during the Job Fair as other agencies may be making offers to the same finalists.

- Be flexible. Finalists will apply to more than one agency and it is possible your agency's top choices will accept other positions. It is important for hiring officials to develop and implement a good backup plan in case their first choice becomes unavailable.
- Follow up on background investigations. Please provide the appropriate background investigation forms to your prospective hires either during or as soon as possible after the Job Fair. As is true for other hiring actions, it is not uncommon for investigations to take several months before finalists can come on board as Fellows. The following "Forms" are available on our website: SF 85 (Questionnaire for Non-Sensitive Positions), SF 85P (Questionnaire for Public Trust Positions), SF 86 (Questionnaire for National Security Positions), and supplemental/continuation forms, although some agencies use their own forms. To avoid delay as much as possible, the PMF Program Office highly encourages finalists to start gathering information requested in the SF 85 and SF 86 as soon as they are selected as finalists. Lengthy background investigations are the #1 reason for delaying a finalists' onboarding with agencies. If a background investigation will delay a finalist from starting by the March 3, 2011, deadline, please inform your Agency PMF Coordinator to contact the PMF Program Office for an appointment deadline extension.
- Agency Job Fair Shipping & Move Out Instructions. Agencies participating in the Job Fair can utilize our decorator for shipping and moving out of materials. Complete instructions and mailing labels can be found on the "Job Fair Information for Agencies" web page.
- Miscellaneous. Approximately 2,500 people attend the Job Fair, including more than seven hundred finalists. Message boards will be on display at the registration counters and during the exhibits to post messages. Please review the agenda and note the schedule. Also, please be prepared for any finalists requiring a special accommodation. All participating agencies must staff their exhibit booths during the entire two days of the Job Fair (please refer to the agenda for set-up and break-down of exhibit booths).

WIRELESS INTERNET AT THE WWC:

The WCC provides free wi-fi internet service in the main lobby (near the Mt. Vernon Place entrance) and the seating areas of Concourse B and C. The WCC has wireless internet throughout, at a cost. Instructions will be posted to the Message Boards or you can follow the instructions upon connecting.
