The PMF allowed me to lead multi-million-dollar projects right out of grad school. I've managed many partnerships, fire restoration efforts, infrastructure development, and habitat restoration with the U.S. Forest Service thanks to the PMF program!

I joined the PMF program as part of a career pivot from the private to public sector since it offers a unique opportunity to start out doing federal policy work. It has allowed me to use my financial skills to protect consumers during the pandemic.
